ASHEVILLE, N. C. CITIZEN (Sunday CITIZEN-TIMES) 42 602 60,278 S. 1965

Backtalk:

Is U. S. Pursuing A Feudal Policy?

our tragic flasco in South Viet- ing the status quo in a rapidly nam by Hoang Van Chi, a dem-changing world, and encourage ocratic North Vietnam patriot the Buddhists and students, who who fled Communist rule in really represent the people, to 1955, and whose book, From install a democratic and re-Colonialism to Communism: a form government which will Case History of North Vietnam, take away any occasion for the has recently been published in Communist-type of reform. New York by Praeger.

When the Americans took over Saigon from the French, they found an anti-Communist "educated" and "Christian" administration and army which persuaded their new masters. and informed CIA agents, that all those who trad-been on the other side in the Viet Minh war were hardened Commun-felt that any anti-Communist thing must be good, threw their for Communists to topple or political, financial, and military buy. Only real democracy is support behind a feudalistic, un- proof against Communism. patriotic, undemocratic, citified regime whose main concern ocracy in Vietnam, in the Conwas to hang onto their own power against democratic opposition from within South Vietnam. (We should know that the penple are mostly Buddhist peasants.)

The North Vietnam author advises that the U.S. abandon

New light has been thrown on its hopeless policy of support-

As Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas has persistently urged, we should be pro-democratic, instead of anti-Communist, all over the world.

What do we gain by supporting undemocratic regimes? They are the ones that, while receiving our gifts, tell us to go The naive Americans, who jump in the lake. Actually, undemocratic regimes are easy

Let's push for peace and demgo, in Cuba, in Germany, in China - everywhere in the world. Yes, it will be a long, hard push. It will take our best brains. But in no other way can we win.

> Wendell Thomas Route 5. Burnsville.